Seniors '89

"Being a senior is really great. It's the last chance you get to express yourself before you have to 'grow up' and be an adult." — Diane Miller

Right: Chris Roderick, Scott Nagle, Sean McKibbin, and Pete Emerson give new meaning to the word "cool."

Top: Once again friendship continues to brighten Raider hallways as Doug Rosezelle and Kris Good show.

Middle: John, Julie, Wendi, Mark, and Diane are enjoying some free time in Mr. Kattau's economics class!

A Time For Change

Cement mixers, construction workers, vibrating classrooms, and detoured hallways was the scene at NHS this year. Not only did the structure of the school change, but some of the staff members were involved in a major turn around. Mrs. Grant, formerly with the special needs curriculum, now works with Students at Risk. Mrs. Woodworth, a teacher — turned counselor, is coordinator of the new Student Assistance Program. Taking Mrs. Woodworth's place in math, Mr. Sienicky has used skills on the football field as the new coach. It is evident that our changes have made NHS as bigger and better place and will continue to make Raider country a place of success.

Check Out The Change

"A Time For Change" is visible at Northridge High School this year. However, this year the building will be new to everyone instead of just the freshmen. The building is not only being renovated but new rooms are being added as well. A new sport for Northridge will be provided with the addition of the swimming pool. A swim team is something that Northridge has not previously had the opportunity to have in the past. New classrooms will be appreciated by students in the hope to reduce class sizes. As changes occur, there are many sacrifices and adjustments that need to be made. The seniors have to use the same entrance and exit as the underclassmen instead of the traditional "senior exit" as in the past. Students are now familiar with all the noises associated with construction and anticipate the completion of Northridge's new look.

Northridge Homecoming

Smiles were everywhere and spirit filled the air as the Raiders celebrated Homecoming on October 7. The festivities began with an excellent band performance followed by a great varsity football defeat of Concord. Freshman representative was Sherri Gardner with her escort Matt Schwartz. Representing the sophomores were Marcia Borntrager and her escort Brian Fletcher. The junior representative was Tanya Koontz and escort Tim Troyer. The senior homecoming queen candidates were Staci Kauffman, escorted by Jeremy Lord; Jenny Schwartz, escorted by Rob Thompson; and this year's queen, Deanna Green with escort Tony Wakley.

The 1988 Spirit Week at Northridge High School took off with flying colors on Class Day. The seniors wore green and the juniors wore gold, while the sophomores wore red, and the freshmen wore blue. Tuesday was Sign-Off Concord Day on which Northridge students decorated T-shirts. Wednesday was also filled with enthusiasm as everyone wore their favorite college attire. On Thursday the aroma of manure spread through the halls as students dressed down for Farmer Day. On Friday, everyone wore green and gold to cheer the Raiders on to victory in the Homecoming game against Concord.

The Senior Brit Lit trip was once again a success. When the buses finally reached the border, money was exchanged and the group was set free to shop in Windsor. After shopping, everyone loaded the bus and continued on to Stratford, Ontario. That evening, they watched Shakespeare's comedy, Two Gentleman of Verona. After the play, everyone headed back to the hotel to order pizza.

"Follow That Pigskin"

It has been a good season for the Northridge Raider Football Team. They improved from last year, winning five and losing only four. Coach Dennis Sienicki and Assistant Coach Mike Logan were determined to improve the performance of the team. This year was good but "next year will be better," says Coach Sienicki. The team strove to improve in every game, making the next better than the last. Mike Miller was the winner of the Most Valuable Player award and Jayme Derr won the Mental Attitude award. Mark Roberts won the Defensive Line award, Gareth Troyer won the Offense award, Rod Davis won the Defense Back award, and Carter Yoder won the Offensive Line award.

The junior varsity and freshman teams also had good seasons; because the varsity team is losing fourteen seniors, there should be many positions available for the outstanding juniors and sophomores next year. On the j.v. team, Eric Call won Most Valuable Player, and Paul Wingeart won the Mental Attitude award.

Andy Cripe runs for it while Coach Hofer nikes the ball.

Determination Defeats Talent Every Time . . .

was the motto for the 1988 Girls' Cross Country team. The team had a very successful season. [redacted] being only their second as a team. They enjoyed an undefeated streak until they met Warsaw and only lost [redacted] one more team, Plymouth, in the regular season. A big change occured this year due to construction. The girls' and boys' courses both moved to Bonneville Mill Park. This was a much more challenging course having many hills, but the girls proved to themselves and others that they were successful on any course. The Raiders placed third in the NLC meet held at Ox Bow Park, and Lori Miller advanced to semistate. When the team was recognized at the Fall Awards Banquet, Lori Miller received the MVP Award, Stacy Huser received the Mental Attitude Award and Tina Miller was Most Improvd. Good Job, girls!

"We met all our goals, one being to win at least nine dual meets, we won eleven; next, [redacted] place at least third in the conference, we placed third; and finally to advance [redacted] least one girl to semistate, we did this also. Next year can expect a little bit more."

The boys' cross country team had a good 1988 season. The number of members on the fall team increased from last year's nine ■ twenty-two. Also, Mr. VonGunten was assistant coach for the boys' and girls' teams for the first time this year. Running on a new course included large amounts of hills. The boys' course is different from the girls' being 3 ½ miles whereas the girls run 2½. The extra mile came with a loop through the woods which was one of the more challenging parts of the course. The team finished the season with a record of 3-14. Team captains were Tim Troyer and Greg Andrews. Matt Hague, a sophomore, won the MVP award, while, Ben Evans, also a sophomore, received recognition for mental attitude. Curtis Hollinger, a sophomore was most improved. Go get 'em next year, guys.

Raiders, Ready To Kill!

The Raider volleyball team had this year a fantastic season. Coaches Mike Lewis, Mary Shroyer, and Mark Gruwell led all three teams to winning seasons. Freshmen had this year an easy job: with their record of 15-1, they killed every opponent. J.V. had to sweat more but their record 16-4 points out that they also had an outstanding season. Varsity had many exciting games and they won most of them, so they did a wonderful job! Varsity Volleyball Awards are as follows: MVP Kallie Kilmer, MA Deanna Green, Offense Kari Morris, Defense Stephanie Yoder. With seven seniors leaving, next year will be a time for change. Thank you, seniors, and, of course, all the other players for a fantastic volleyball season!

The Raider Boy's Tennis Team, under the leadership of Coach Lederach, finished the season at 7-7. The team had a better start than any other team in Northridge history; however, they fell just short of a winning season. Ryan Miller and Tony Wakley served as co-captains for the squad this season. Although the varsity team was dominated by seniors, the Raiders can look forward to a promising season next year when the junior varsity moves up. Tony Wakley earned the Most Valuable Player Award while fellow senior Bronson Troyer won the Mental Attitude Award. Tony's and Bronson's strong performances not only earned them Raider awards but also earned them first place ranking in the Northern Lakes Conference as they teamed up to play number one doubles. The junior varsity team also had a very competitive season and ended the year with four wins, six losses, and three tied games. Their experience this year should provide a solid foundation for next year's squad.

We've Got The Spirit

The varsity squad completed & placed in various competitions this past summer. The one major competition was the Elkhart County 4-H Fair where the girls took second place. They also won the Koziosko Noble competition. The JV Cheerleaders also competed at the Elkhart County Fair where they won first place. During the summer of 88, they participated in a cheerleading camp at IU where they were having tryouts for UCA Cheerleaders to go to London. Only two from varsity were allowed to try-out — and from ours Jenna Anglemeyer & Monica Miller were chosen to compete; it was very rare to have two chosen from one squad. It was a very exciting year for these cheerleaders.

Once again the Northridge Raider's boys' basketball team had a successful season. Mr. Lord, in his first season coaching for the Raiders, led the team to an overall record of [illegible] wins and 11 losses. He also brought along with him his son Jeremy Lord who was a spark for the Raiders this year, averaging more points per game than the rest of the Raiders. The NHS Raider wrestlers finished out their season with a 7-7-1 record. As Coach Hofer said, this year was a "building" year and next year will be better. Though the team as a whole looks to do better next year, several Raiders did have a very good season. Mike Boyal and Tony Metzger were sectional champs while Tony went on to become a semi-state qualifier. The MVP award went to Tony Metzger, and Mental Attitude was awarded to Andy Yeager. A Big Hit

The Northridge Raiders started the 1989 season with a very strong start. The regular season ended with a record of 22-6, which set the school record for most wins in a season. Post season play, however, was dampened a bit by a deluge of rain during sectionals. The Raiders tried 3 times to finish the same rained-out game. The pitching task this year went to Eric Call while other Raiders gave a very strong show; among them were Doug VonQunten, Roger Knepp and Gareth Troyer to name a few. Great job, Raiders!

Jeremy Elswick blasts this one off to the short stop.

Change Last Year's Record?

Above: Steph Callihan fields the ball for a third out.

Never! The 1989 softball team had a hard act to follow after the 1988 softball team, led by pitcher Annette Evans, became State Champs last year. After the state championship, the team was honored by a welcoming parade at home and a reception at the school. This year's win-loss record at 12-11 was not quite as good but as Coach Willig is often quoted as saying, "It will feel a lot better as soon as it quits hurting." Changes were, however, made in the team; most of last year's team returned and Stacie Dempsey took the mound. Shelly Riegsecker was both Defensive Player with .977 and Leading Hitter with .294. Crystal Bender earned the MVP award and Steph Yoder received the Mental Attitude award. For the second year the NHS girls team had a junior varsity coached by Mr. Kauffman. Things are looking good for a relatively new sport at Northridge.

NHS Boys Tee Off

Once again, the NHS boys' golf team had a successful season with seniors Joey Eash, Ryan Miller, and Sam Rozzi leading them to an NLC title. These three seniors also were named to the all-conference team. Coach Todd Woodworth helped the Raider golfers to a 14-3 team record, and a 6-1 record in the NLC. The Raiders also participated in numerous tournaments where they were also successful.

Carrying through his stroke, Terry Zimmerman, sophomore, watches his shot.

Pride is the one word that can describe how the Northridge boys' track team feels about its competition. Performance, respect, improvement, determination, and effort/edification are the principles on which the boys' track team disciplined themselves. The coaches had set a list of goals which they hoped the team would accomplish before the season's end; the team was able to check off every one of them. This year was primarily an improvement year, and the team was able to finish the year with an 8-5 finish, placing sixth in the NLC. All the team members and the coaches have high hopes of competitions with the best of them next year.

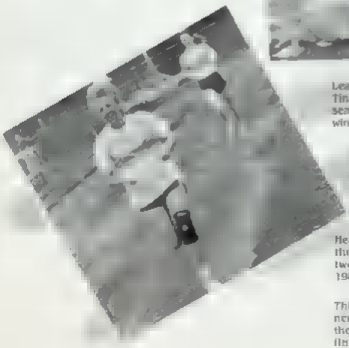
Go For It!

Phenomenal was the word Coach Mark Hofer used quite often to describe the Lady Raiders track and field team. The girls increased their numbers from a 1988 thirteen to a 1989 twenty-five. This helped the team to being stronger and having more depth than the past season. Among the highlights of the season were the championship at Northwood Relays, sending one girl on the state track meet, and breaking nine school records. Shelly Pritt qualified for the state meet in the long jump with a 16 feet and 11½ inch masurement at the regional meet held at Northrop High School. Star Yoder also placed sixth in the mile run at the regional with a personal best time of 5:20.9. Lori Miller and Star Yoder shared the MVP honors from the distance, while Shelly Pritt captured field events, Michelle Hartzler with sprints, and Sharlyn Yoder with the mental attitude award.



Leading NHS to a victory, Tina and Jenna huddled all season with great times and winning places.

These distance runners give glances up from one of their relaxing pep talk before their meet with Concord.

Heather Miller and Stacy Huser developed as strong two-mile runners for the 1989 Lady Raiders.

This freshman distance runner, Julia Clemmer, showed the team with her collapsing finishes that she always gave it her all.

Kari Morris helped the Raiders with her points in shot put and discus totaling over 100 for the season.

Tennis, Anyone?

This year can only be described as a rebuilding one for the girls' tennis team. The team had a losing record; however, they had only one senior and, therefore, have high hopes for next year. Team captains this year were Julie Kozlowski and Steph Shaffer. This year's Most Valuable Player award winner was Jenny Whittington. Julie Kozlowski won the Mental Attitude award and Timber Sherck won the Most Points award. Next year should be an exciting year with eight out of nine varsity letter winners returning. Good luck, Raiders!

This year's officers of the National Honor Society were: president, Stephanie Yoder; vice-president, Lamar Helmuth; treasurer, Roger Knepp; and secretary, Gail Francis. Each year members of the sophomore, junior and senior classes are selected by a faculty council to be in the NHS. The members are required to participate in two activities and in one committee. Some of the activities include the bookstore every morning before school, a dance after a basketball game, the Honors Wall decorations, Teacher of the Month, a faculty reception, and induction. The Society also contributes time and energy to help out the American Lung Association at Christmas time. Thanks to Mrs. Tayler for helping keep up the standards of the Society for the years ahead.

Proud To Be Drug Free

The SADD chapter at NHS changed from its previous name Students against Drunk Driving to Raiders Against Drinking and Drugs. RADD sponsored a lock-in, planned special activities for the week before prom, and helped to sponsor a bowling party after prom with FCA. The leadership of Mrs. Woodworth and Jami Myers, president, helped to make another great year.

Friendship And Fellowship

A new club entered the scene at NHS this year, the Fellowship of Christian Athletes. FCA tried to reach out to students and teachers welcoming them to their biweekly meetings in their first year status. Devotionals, business, and fun inhabited the meetings. Becky Chesher, Joe Troyer, and Pam Bressler served as FCA officers for 1989.

Mr. Shroyer Deflates Small Child On Skilift

Northridge Ski club was this year a great success. Sponsored by Dan Shroyer, a schoolbus loaded with 35 students went up for six Wednesday nights to Swiss Valley in Michigan. The snow conditions differed from reasonable to good. The first night a lot of beginners started on the "Bunny Hill" with lessons from Chris Good, but after an hour they were seen on the intermediate hill; and, believe it or not, at the end of the night most of them went down the "triple." It was amazing how much everybody improved in one night. From time to time there were troubles with getting in and out of the lifts; even advanced skiers like Mr. Shroyer had this problem. When he was getting in the lift and ready to sit down, he found himself sitting on a small boy. Quite a surprise! After a fight with his ski poles, he finally sat BESIDE this small boy, and everything turned out fine. By the sixth night most of the skiers were jumping "bubbles." The difference between the beginners and the advanced was clearly seen in the amount of the "wipe outs," but both seemed to have lots of fun.

Deadlines And Dilemmas

The yearbook staff was busy as usual again this year. Under the guidance of Miss Thomas the staff strove to complete the best yearbook ever. The staff tried to follow through with the theme of change to accomodate all of the changes going on at Northridge. The staff ranged from veteran members to Magda Mous, an exchange student from Holland. The diverse group was able to put together a successful yearbook once again. Co-editors this year were Pam Bressler and Julie Kozlowski. Congratulations staff!

Putting Our Best Foot Forward

Pep Club sponsor Mrs. Priem was busy working with the club members as they kept the halls brightly decorated with signs of encouragement as the different sports progressed throughout their seasons. They were also busy with planning pep rallies which got the students excited before homecoming and sectional games. They planned spirit week activities such as dress up days, as well as class competition games such as tug of war, scooter and ameba races. Pep club then sponsored dances to help pay for the activities.

Academic . . .

Two new academic teams have joined the Academic Decathlon this year with the addition of the Spellbowl and Speech teams coached by Mrs. Simpson and Mr. Noble respectively. The Spellbow team competed twice while Matt Martin and Ross Toth consistently brought home honors for the Speech-team. David Francis, with four medals, and Justin Brown, with three medals, were only two of the many award winners for the Academic Decathlon which was hosted by Northridge High School.

Music Marches On

With the help of Jeremy Miller and Star Yoder who were the 1988-89 Drum Majors, Mr. Lindsay and the band had a great year. They marched at the Rice Field for the Elkhart Invitational and provided the entertainment for pre-game show and some of the half-times at home football games. We look forward to seeing you again next year with your great marching band formations.

Nuggets Of Jazz

The Northridge Jazz Nuggets, directed by Mr. Richard Lindsay, provided musical atmosphere for all of the home basketball games. Many enjoyed the entertainment of their music and of their funny antics. Some of the Jazz Nuggets obviously needed to be told to bring their instruments. Gary Adamson earned the position of student director for their performances. Besides that, Mr. Lindsay gave each member the responsibility of directing one piece of music. Play on!

Keeping Step

The Colorguard participated with the band performing at home football games and at contest for marching band. Their student director was Carl Clark. A Moveable Choir

The Concert Choir, under the direction of Mr. Rasler, had a terrific year. Jami Myers and Sharon Miller, choir officers, helped Ras with attendance and getting the class in order before "The Boss" showed up. The Concert Choir sang in four concerts including the Fish Fry, Christmas concert, a church, and the spring concert. They participated in Solo and Ensemble Contest and came home with a first at Choir Contest although sight-singing could have been better. Some of the choir students also participated in the musical "Oklahoma." Good job, Concert Choir.

Sound Of Friends . . .
Look At Them Shine!

This year's group had 26 members and was considered by Mr. Rasler to be one of the most talented groups he'd ever had. The group was very active, starting shows in October and going strong through May. They also did very well at contest this year. Many groups and soloists performed at the state competition. They not only received a 1st division rating at ISSMA show choir contest but they also qualified for the their consecutive year in the state finals for concert choirs. They placed 15th in the state this year and worked very hard to represent NHS. Good job, Friends!

Oklahoma — Success

Under the direction of Mrs. Augustine, Mr. Lindsay, and Mr. Rasler with the help of Jami Myers, student director, the 1989 musical production of OKLAHOMA was a great success. The lead roles went to Ryan Miller, Shelley Cook, Matt Yoder, Lisa Erickson, Bill Stose, Ron Bomtrager, Jacquie Miller, and Steve Salisbury. Although the practices were held from 3:45 to 6:00 for seven weeks, the cast members REALLY got tired when, from February 21 through March 10, practices went from 6:00 to 9:00 in the evening. Starting on March 13 practices were complete dress rehearsals and ran from 7:30 until rehearsal was completed. After the performance on Saturday, the cast congregated at Lisa Erickson's house for fun, fellowship, food, and a quick game of Suck and Blow (an inocuous card game). Magic Or Math?

Mathematics is a precise science leaving no room for interpretation. But that doesn't stop the Northridge math teachers from having a good time in class anyway. They use the latest in technology to show their students the logic of the universe. Their topics range from balancing a checkbook to calculating the curvature of space. One major change in the math department was the addition of Dennis Sienicki, alias head football coach. Many math students actively participated in showing their skills at the academic decathlon and the calculator contest.

Scientific Mania

The teachers at NHS strive to show students how the universe works. Even though science is a serious matter, the teachers never cease to amuse the students with their antics. It seems that Mr. Noble and Mr. Willig are always quibbling on some point, but they communicate effectively with students who also amaze the teachers with their willingness to learn. Some were so eager that they participated in extracurricular projects such as the Science Olympiad and the regional science and engineering fair. Many brought home ribbons and medals from those events. All in all, the year was a productive one for students and teachers alike.

"Love In Any Language"

Many students who are bored with learning about English take the opportunity to learn a different language. Here at NHS we have German, taught by Mr. Frazier, and Spanish, taught by Mrs. Meuninck and Mr. Woodworth. In connection with learning the basics of the languages, we also learn about the different cultures. The Spanish students were involved in different contests and the German students were involved in the GAPP Program. This was a German exchange for a month between German students from the United States and English students from Germany.

A selected few have been enlightened by Mr. Weaver through the use of his stories, wit & wife comments. Once more Mr. Logan has inspired the social seeking students of Northridge High! Applications Of The Arts

Mr. Berkey & class watch on as Gabriel revs the engines

Stirring away, pounding nails, sawing and sewing, these are what the applied arts are all about. Mr. Berkey is new to this part of teaching this year, helping students to construct special projects in shop class. Computer technology is Mr. Kauffman's field. He also teaches classes in graphic arts and metals. While Mrs. Woodruff turns NHS students into chefs, Mrs. Snider teaches her pupils how to relate to themselves and others in interpersonal relations class. She also teaches sewing classes. The teachers help students to learn and practice things in everyday life.

Chorus And Colors

Since construction has taken over, band students must walk clear around the gym to reach their room. They can be seen in the morning lugging French horns and tubas through the hallways hoping they won't be late. Thanks to their diligence and Mr. Lindsay's undying inspirational value, the marching band won first place in both the district and regional competitions. Mr. Rasler was successful as well with his first rate chorale and concert choirs as they both took number one spots in the choir contest. Many students excelled in the solo and ensemble contests also. Mrs. Hamish took the first class to the new part of the building. She has many promising students, including those who will be attending a fine arts seminar this summer.

Down To Business

The Business Department, getting down to business every day, offers a variety of classes. These include Accounting, Keyboarding, Business, Business Law, Office Procedures, and Word Processing. These classes are becoming increasingly important as procedures in the business world are switching quickly to computers to store and process information. Many students who are interested in pursuing a career in this field take the opportunity to participate in these classes.

Let's Get Physical!

Students throughout NHS are answering the call, "Let's Get Physical!" Mrs. K. and Mr. Lord whip their students into shape by teaching them such sports as golf, track and field, basketball, football, and many more. Mrs. Kaminskis has also put numerous hours of hard work in as the athletic trainer for NHS. Mr. Pletcher also remained in the phys. ed. department by teaching health as well as being assistant athletic director. All the teachers who combined to make up the department made learning a great experience.

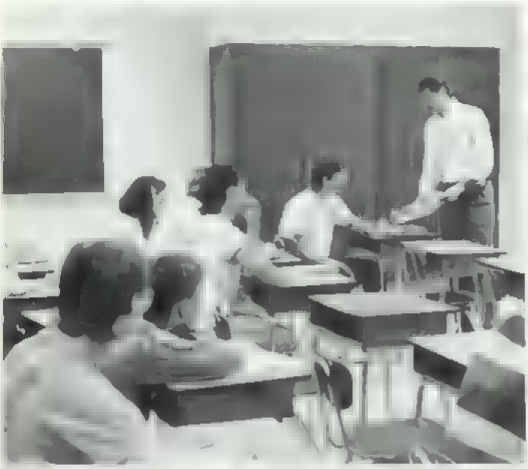
"Once Upon A Time . . . "



Once upon a time there were seven language arts teachers who taught at NHS. They taught a wide variety of classes from English 9 to Advanced British Lit. Though the characters remained the same, the setting changed. Next year each language arts teacher will finally have his own permanent room. The plot thickens as the 1989 graduates were the first class to have to take four years of English. The theme: if you didn't graduate by '88, you were born too late. Earlier graduates lived happily ever after.

Special Needs

Mrs. Berkey, Mrs. Katz, Mrs. Simpson, and Mrs. Somheil spend their days helping those students who have various problems, learning and otherwise. Many of us don't realize how much they do. We do see Mrs. Simpson when she is working with the Spell Bowl Team, and if you are sick you might see Mrs. Berkey. Mrs. Somheil split her time between Heritage, teaching biology, and her duties with this program. These ladies have a special smile for everyone that makes it a pleasure to work with them.

Positive Influence

Mrs. Troyer, Mrs. Grant and our new addition to the PASS room, Miss Mosier, work very hard to help students understand themselves and their problems. They provide group sessions for students who have problems which may impact their schoolwork. They are there to listen and to give advice if needed. They can help turn anyone's dreary day into a day worth remembering.

Administration

Guidance and discipline are major parts of a high school education at NHS. The people who are responsible for this are our counselors, Mrs. Woodworth, Mr. Rhodes, and Mr. Snider, and also our principal, Mr. Lichtenberger and assistant principal, Dr. Ruch. Also responsible for the program at NHS are its superintendent, Dr. Baker, and its assistant superintendent, Dr. Sanders. Thanks for your dedication.

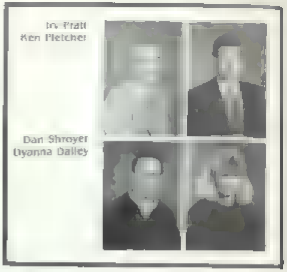
Secretaries . . .

The sound to typewriters, the rustling of papers, the ringing of telephones: these are the sounds that fill the office everyday. Students coming in and out asking questions and teachers trying to find their things: these are the things that our secretaries deal with day in and day out. They try to help make our stay at Northridge as nice as possible.



Athletics And Academics . .

adds to its personnel. Ken Fletcher became the Assistant Athletic Director this year to coordinate the Heritage athletics program while he continued to teach at NHS. Dyanna Dailey split her time between her secretarial duties to the A.D.s and the librarian, while the new copier required a bit of her time. Mr. Shroyer and Mr. Pratt adjusted accordingly.

Cooks & Custodians

The cooks and custodians this year had added burdens to contend with beside their normal daily routines. For much of the year the cafeteria/study hall area was in one-third of the gym. The custodians also were required to deal with clean up in the new wing as construction increased the building size.

A Time For Exchange

Here we are the exchange students from the class of 1989. In the upper row from the left are Hanna (Finland), Saara (Finland), Carol (Argentina), Anna (Finland). At the bottom are Marcel (Peru), Magda (Holland), and our only guy, Andreas, from Germany. We all had a great year here at Northridge. We experienced life at an American high school. Raider country made us feel very welcome. We were this year a part of Northridge, and Northridge became certainly a part of us. We want to thank everybody for our fantastic year! We will all miss you!

Hi, Thank you so very much for the great year I had here at Northridge! I'll miss you.
Hanna

I meant to thank all of you, teachers and students for NHS. I've enjoyed my exchange year a lot and I'll try it never forget it. I hope we'll keep in touch! Love ya all, Saara

Hi!
I had a nice time here at NHS.
Thank you. Pen the experience.
Andreas Victor

Hello Raiders,
I want to thank you all for my super fantastic year at Northridge. I really enjoyed my stay and I love America!!
I will never forget you!
Bye, Magda

Thanks for being a great and big part of my exchange year. I have really enjoyed my time in here at N.H.S.!
Anna

I will never forget this time I had here or all the people who made it special. Thanks.
Carol ☺

Spring Fever Dampened

The 1988-89 school year closed out quite differently than last year's dry, 80° weather. Snow fell in huge flakes on the first day back from spring break. Though the weather improved somewhat, students rarely had enough sun at lunch times to enjoy catching the rays. Another obstacle to overcome was even finding a place to enjoy the sun; the front entrance, a favorite spot, was closed off for all of May. Sorry, seniors! Better luck next year, juniors!

Top: Haven't you seniors seen enough snow this year?

Homecoming during the basketball season added just the right amount of spirit to boost the Raiders onto yet another victory. The spirit of the junior class shone through as they won the wall decorating contest in the gym. Senior Tim Burkholder was crowned Homecoming King from the court which included Todd Eash and Erik Crisp. Representatives from the underclassman classes were Gareth Troyer, junior; Chris Frey, sophomore; and Von Oxenrider, freshman.

Bottom: Swing, swing, swing. Everybody got to swing! Mrs. Conway and Mr. Noble certainly joined in and had a fun time on the dance floor.

"A Night In Heaven"

The Junior-Senior Prom was this year held at Arthur's in Elkhart. The place was beautifully decorated with the prom colors of blue and white. The dinner was good, and the dance was a great success because of the good music and the cute disc-jockeys! After the prom, KADD and FCA sponsored bowling at the Rainbow Lanes. Many people used this opportunity and celebrated their "Night in Heaven" until 4:00 a.m. This year's prom was great, and we wanted to thank the junior class for doing such a fantastic job!

One Major Change

The biggest class to ever graduate from NHS took a new place in life after their commencement exercises on June 3, 1989. Mr. Frazier gave the Commencement Address, and seniors John Durlacher and Magda Mous shared their thoughts on the past year.

The senior choir members sing out as the class of '89 listens to their harmony.

It looks like Colleen has already begun her graduation celebration

The Cynic's Farewell

The covered faces that are worn
We cannot stand to stay.
In time, we see them be torn
And for awhile we will mourn
But then view them another way.

We don't forget the paths we made,
We tend to hold them to our grave.
Though we know many who have paid
Thinking they did let the past be stayed,
To find it's something they can't save.

So we are left without a sign
And we coldly meet new faces
In yet another point of time
Where we must make a change of theme
To fit into our places.

The things we were will slowly fade
And then finally cease to be
Through machinations of our guide
That we were taught and so obeyed
Until becoming all we see.

It's just a chapter, I am told,
But it would make a better end
To keep all that we now hold
Before we seek another mold
And travel further around the bend.

- David R. Francis

Graduation Class Of '89
Years ago you had work and dedication, you've reached a goal — graduation. Of course, there will be many more challenges to meet.
At Coachmen Industries we've reached goals made years ago, but still strive to reach those made yesterday. It's how we grow as a company.
You, too, should persist in your efforts to make the dreams of today the reality of tomorrow. By constantly reaching for those goals, you will ensure a prosperous future.

Destruction Or Reconstruction?

The sounds of cranes, steamrollers, trucks, and drills were just a few of the noises heard this year. But it was worth it. In the nine months of school, eight new rooms were used and even more were built. The new gym, locker rooms, handball courts, and swimming pool are still in progress but are intended to be completed by Christmas of 1989. Some of the teachers have already experienced some of the changes including English, choir and art.

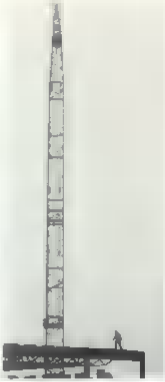
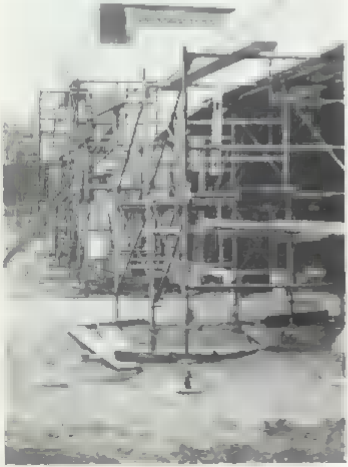
Left: The doors in the cafeteria, are they going up or down?

Below: It may not look like a pool now, but just wait.

It does look more like a pool now that the machines are out of the way.

Right: The pool goes up and so does the crane.





Left: They're putting the finishing touches on the outside.

Above: The cafeteria is a mess but with more than one line we'll get through faster.

This is going to be the new lobby?

Below: Christy gives us a smile as she walks into a new part of the building.

Right: These sophomore guys look like they're up to something.

Below: These two senior guys have a nice chat between classes.
